Sanitized Copy Approved for Release 2011/03/18: CIA-RDP91-00587R000100600002-5

ARTICLE APPLICATION PAGE STOUL 1

CHICAGO TRIBUNE 14 July 1986

Almanac

In 1981, Max Hugel, the CIA's deputy director of clandestine operations, resigned amid allegations he had engaged in fraudulent business dealings while managing an electronics firm during the 1970s. Hugel won a defamation suit in 1984.